

Dairy Records Management Systems (DRMS) welcomes a new Western Manager of Support and Sales. Kayana Fonseca is a graduate of Alfred State College and Middle Tennessee State University (MTSU). She was the student manager of the dairy while at MTSU and a Dairy Challenge participant. Kayana recently completed her move to CA and is ready to support the needs of current customers and market DRMS products and services to dairy producers, consultants, educators and DHIA staff in the western U.S.

“Kayana’s love for the dairy industry runs deep and she is so excited to be living in the number one dairy state in the country and supporting producers across the western U.S. Her passion for all things dairy shows and will take her far” says Erinn Evangelista, DRMS Manager of Outreach Services.

DRMS, with offices in Raleigh, NC and Ames, IA, provides herd management products PCDART and PocketDairy as well as DHI processing services and reports for DHIA's, producers, veterinarians, consultants and other dairy industry professionals throughout the United States. With over 60 years of experience in processing DHI records and more than two million cows enrolled in services, DRMS is the largest dairy records processing center in the country and the only one that operates as a non-profit, providing its clients the best value for their services.
